

1
2
3
4
5
6
7 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
8 WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
9 AT SEATTLE

10 WAGGEH OUSMAN,

11 Petitioner,

12 v.

13 JOHN KELLY, et al.,

14 Respondents.

CASE NO. C17-1014JLR-MAT

ORDER

15 I. INTRODUCTION

16 This is a 28 U.S.C. § 2241 immigration habeas action. (See generally Pet. (Dkt.
17 # 1).) Before the court is Respondents' ("the Government") emergency motion for 18 reconsideration of the court's July 6, 2017, temporary restraining order ("TRO")
19 prohibiting Petitioner Waggeh Ousman's transfer or removal. (MFR (Dkt. # 5); see
20 7/6/17 Order (Dkt. # 3).) Mr. Ousman opposes the motion for reconsideration. (MFR 21 Resp. (Dkt. # 8).) Having considered the motion, Mr. Ousman's response, the balance of

22 //

1 the record, and the governing law, the court GRANTS the motion for reconsideration and
2 VACATES the TRO.

3 II. BACKGROUND

4 A. Factual Background

5 Mr. Ousman is a native and citizen of The Gambia. (Pet. ¶¶ 1, 3; Booth Decl.
6 (Dkt. # 6) ¶ 3.) He entered the United States on November 4, 1995 as a B-1
7 nonimmigrant visitor with a 30-day period of authorized stay. (Pet. ¶ 2; Booth Decl. ¶ 3.)
8 He failed to depart and was eventually placed in removal proceedings. (Pet. ¶ 2; Booth 9 Decl. ¶ 3.) On February 3, 2010, an immigration judge ordered Mr. Ousman removed to 10 The Gambia. (Pet. ¶ 2; Booth Decl. ¶ 4.) The Board of Immigration Appeals dismissed
11 his appeal, and the Ninth Circuit dismissed his petition for review for failure to prosecute.
12 (Pet. ¶ 2; Booth Decl. ¶ 4.)

13 At the time Mr. Ousman's order of removal became final, he was detained at the 14 Northwest Detention Center in Tacoma, Washington. (Booth Decl. ¶ 5.) Mr. Ousman
15 participated with United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("ICE") in efforts
16 to obtain a travel document from The Gambia, but those efforts were unsuccessful. (Pet.
17 ¶ 3; Booth Decl. ¶ 5.) A deportation officer ultimately determined that a travel document
18 was unlikely to be issued in the foreseeable future, and Mr. Ousman was released on an 19 Order of Supervision.¹ (Pet. ¶ 3; Booth Decl. ¶¶ 6-7.) Since Mr. Ousman's release, he

20 //

21 ¹ Mr. Ousman asserts that he was released in October 2010 (Pet. ¶ 3), but the Government 22 submitted evidence that he was released in March 2011 (Booth Decl. ¶ 7). This factual dispute is not material to the instant order.

1 has routinely appeared as directed by ICE and cooperated with all ICE requests. (Pet.
2 ¶ 4.)

3 On June 7, 2017, Seattle-based ICE Deportation Officer Brett Booth received an 4 email from the Chief of Staff of the Removal Division of the Office of Enforcement and 5 Removal Operations. (Booth Decl. ¶ 8, Ex. A (Dkt. # 6-1).) The email explained that 6 from July 18-20, 2017, the Gambian government will conduct interviews of individuals
7 in York, Pennsylvania, to establish eligibility for travel documents for the purpose of 8 removing Gambians from the United States. (Id. at 2.) The email instructed that ICE
9 should take certain removable Gambians who were not detained, including Mr. Ousman,
10 into custody for the purpose of being transported to York, Pennsylvania, interviewed, and 11 then returned to their respective places of origin. (Id.; Booth Decl. ¶ 8, Ex. B (Dkt.
12 # 6-2).) Officer Booth has been informed that the Gambian government is requiring in-
13 person interviews, not telephonic or video interviews. (Booth Decl. ¶ 12.)

14 On June 8, 2017, Mr. Ousman appeared and reported to ICE as required. (Pet.
15 ¶ 6.) He was informed that ICE was making arrangements to obtain a travel document
16 for his return to The Gambia, and he was taken into custody and transferred to the 17 Northwest Detention Center. (Id.; Booth Decl. ¶ 11.) Mr. Ousman is currently detained
18 at the Northwest Detention Center. (Pet. ¶ 1.)

19 B. Procedural History

20 On July 5, 2017, Mr. Ousman filed a habeas petition seeking, among other relief, 21 an order releasing him from detention and reinstating his Order of Supervision and an 22 emergency order barring his transfer out of this judicial district. (See generally Pet.) On

1 July 6, 2017, Mr. Ousman filed an emergency motion for a TRO and preliminary
2 injunction, requesting that the Government be enjoined and restrained from transferring
3 him from the Northwest Detention Center to any other facility during the pendency of 4 these proceedings. (TRO Mot. (Dkt. # 2).) In his motion, Mr. Ousman explained that on 5 July 5, 2017, an ICE officer informed him that he would be transferred to a detention
6 facility in Pennsylvania and that the transfer was imminent, which Mr. Ousman
7 understood to mean within the next day or two. (Id. at 2.) Mr. Ousman objected to (1)
8 being transferred out of the Northwest Detention Center, away from his counsel; and (2)
9 to ICE's alleged intent to hold him in indefinite custody, rather than release him on his 10 prior Order of Supervision. (Id.)

11 On July 6, 2017, the Honorable Ricardo S. Martinez entered an order on behalf of 12 the undersigned judge temporarily staying Mr. Ousman's transfer pending briefing and 13 ruling on his TRO motion and his habeas petition. (7/6/17 Order at 2.) The court
14 directed the Government to file a return and status report and to respond to Mr. Ousman's
15 request for a stay by July 13, 2017. (Id.) The court ordered the Government to note the 16 submissions for consideration on the third Friday after filing. (Id.)

17 On July 11, 2017, the Government filed an emergency motion for reconsideration,
18 asking the court to vacate the TRO no later than Friday, July 14, 2017, so that ICE could
19 temporarily transfer Mr. Ousman to Pennsylvania to participate in an in-person interview
20 with the Gambian government. (See MFR.) The Government did not have an 21 opportunity to respond to Mr. Ousman's TRO motion, and therefore the evidence
22 summarized above regarding the purpose and duration of the transfer is new information

1 to the court. The Government argues that the TRO should be vacated because the court
2 does not have jurisdiction to interfere with efforts to obtain travel documents or remove 3 Mr. Ousman and because Mr. Ousman has not shown a likelihood of success on the 4 merits. (Id.)

5 The court ordered Mr. Ousman to respond to the Government's motion by July 13,
6 2017. (7/12/17 Order (Dkt. # 7).) Mr. Ousman spends the majority of his response
7 arguing that his continued, indefinite detention is unconstitutional under Zadvydas v.
8 Davis, 533 U.S. 678 (2001). (MFR Resp. at 2-7, 11.) That argument is relevant to Mr.
9 Ousman's habeas petition generally, but it is irrelevant to the issue currently before the 10 court: whether to reconsider the court's order staying Mr. Ousman's imminent,
11 temporary transfer to Pennsylvania. (See generally MFR; see also 7/6/17 Order at 2-3.)
12 He also argues on various grounds that his temporary transfer to Pennsylvania is 13 unnecessary.² (MFR Resp. at 8-10.)

14 III. ANALYSIS

15 Motions for reconsideration are disfavored. Local Rules W.D. Wash.
16 LCR 7(h)(1). The court ordinarily will deny such motions unless the moving party 17 demonstrates (1) manifest error in the prior ruling, or (2) new facts or legal authority that 18 could not have been brought to the attention of the court earlier with due diligence. Id.
19 As noted above, the Government has presented new facts that could not have been

20
21 ² The court disregards the unsworn averments of Mr. Ousman's counsel that purport to 22 undermine the Government's sworn declaration (MFR Resp. at 10; see also Emergency Travel Doc. App. (Dkt. # 8-1)), but even if true, counsel's statements would not alter the court's analysis.

1 brought to the court's attention earlier because the TRO was issued without providing the
2 Government an opportunity to respond. (See 7/6/17 Order at 2.) This new evidence
3 persuades the court that Mr. Ousman is not entitled to a TRO.

4 To obtain a temporary restraining order, a party must demonstrate: (1) a
5 likelihood of success on the merits; (2) a likelihood of irreparable harm in the absence of 6 preliminary relief; (3) that the balance of equities tips in his favor; and (4) an injunction is 7 in the public interest. Winter v. Natural Res. Def. Council, Inc., 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008);
8 see also Stuhlberg Int'l Sales Co. v. John D. Brush & Co., 240 F.3d 832, 839 n.7 (9th
9 Cir. 2001) (holding that the same substantive standard applies to TROs and preliminary
10 injunctions). Ninth Circuit law also allows for satisfaction of the first and third elements
11 outlined in Winter by raising serious questions going to the merits of the moving party's 12 case and showing that the balance of hardships tips sharply in the moving party's favor.
13 See All. for the Wild Rockies v. Cottrell, 632 F.3d 1127, 1131, 1135 (9th Cir. 2011) 14 (adding that plaintiff must also show a likelihood of irreparable injury and that the 15 injunction is in the public interest).

16 Now that the record before the court is more fully developed, it is clear that Mr.
17 Ousman is not entitled to a TRO preventing his transfer. The court need not consider the 18 merits of Mr. Ousman's case at this time because the other elements do not weigh in his 19 favor. Mr. Ousman based his motion for a TRO on his understanding that his transfer to 20 Pennsylvania and away from his counsel would be permanent. (TRO Mot. at 3; Pet.
21 ¶¶ 9-10.) But the Government has submitted un rebutted evidence that it intends to 22 temporarily transfer him to Pennsylvania for an in-person interview by the Gambian

1 government, then transfer him back to the Northwest Detention Center. (See Booth Decl.
2 ¶¶ 8-13, Exs. A-B.) As the Government points out, Mr. Ousman has an obligation to 3 cooperate with its efforts to obtain a travel document. See 8 U.S.C. § 1253(a) (penalizing 4 non-citizens who have been ordered removed and fail “to make timely application in 5 good faith for travel or other documents necessary” for departure from the United States).
6 Mr. Ousman has not shown a likelihood of irreparable harm if he is temporarily
7 transferred to Pennsylvania. (See TRO Mot. at 3; MFR Resp. at 11.) Furthermore, given 8 the temporary nature of the transfer, the equities do not tip in his favor and preliminary
9 injunctive relief would be contrary to the public interest, which favors obtaining travel
10 documents for non-citizens who have been ordered removed. The court therefore 11 concludes that Mr. Ousman is not entitled to a TRO prohibiting his transfer or removal.

12 IV. CONCLUSION

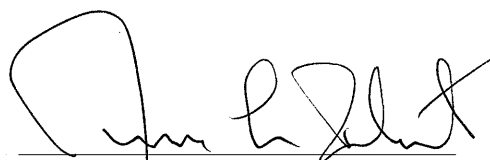

13 Based on the foregoing analysis, the court GRANTS the Government’s motion for 14 reconsideration (Dkt. # 5), DENIES Mr. Ousman’s emergency motion for a TRO and 15 preliminary injunction (Dkt. # 2), and VACATES the temporary stay of location transfer
16 and removal (Dkt. # 3). The court ORDERS the Government, within 30 days of the date
17 this order is signed, to file a return as provided in 28 U.S.C. § 2243 and a memorandum
18 of authority in support of its position. The Government shall note the return for 19 consideration on the third Friday after it is filed, and the parties shall submit additional 20 briefs in accordance with the Local Civil Rules. The court DIRECTS the Clerk to send

21 //

22 //

1 copies of this order to the parties and to the Honorable Mary Alice Theiler.

2 Dated this th13 day of July, 2017.

3
4 JAMES L. ROBART
United States District Judge
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19
20
21
22